RE knowledge

Religions, such as Christianity and Islam have special places and buildings which are important to their followers as places of worship. These buildings are often impressive feats of architecture that represent their value to the people who use them. In Islamic art there are no images of Allah, whereas Christian art frequently depicts Jesus as well as stories from the Bible.

Both religions place importance on acts of charity as a way of expressing their values and beliefs.

RE Vocabulary

Word	Definition
Sacred	Connected with God or to a religious purpose.
